

Meet Sarah Kiar...

My name is Sarah Kiar, I grew up in the small town of Erinsville helping my grandparents raise beef cattle, and six year ago I moved to Warkworth. After being around animals for my whole life, I have gained the love for agriculture and am now working my way towards my associate diploma in agriculture at the University of Guelph Ridgetown Campus. After graduation in 2021, I would like to continue my schooling and obtain my degree in agriculture business. Throughout my high school experience and my first year at Ridgetown I have volunteered my time to help my schools. In highschool, I was the Minister of Finance for our student council in 2019 and this past year at Ridgetown I have had the honour of being a student ambassador. I love helping others and want to continue helping others in every way I can. Sometimes helping others is difficult for me while trying to balance school, work, and family as not all are located in the same place but with the time I have to spare I try to get involved in what I can to support wherever I am.
